

The appearance of form elements such as input fields, and radio buttons may differ between browsers. For example, the submit buttons appeared differently in Chrome compared to Edge. Links: The colors may also appear differently in different browsers due to differences in color rendering. Opera overall had brighter and more saturated blues.